

A NEWSPAPER FOR
CIVIC PRIDE, THE HOME,
A GREATER TULSA

TULSA WORLD

FINAL EDITION

VOL. XIV. NO. 85.

TULSA, OKLAHOMA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1919.

TEN PAGES

PRICE 5 CENTS.

KAISER WILLING TO STAND TRIAL

Wilhelm Insists That He Shall Fix Date for the Hearing.

WILLIE TO OBJECT

Dutch Officials Expecting a Demand From Allies for the Ex-Emperor.

WILL NOT GRANT REQUEST

German Reports Indicate That Famous Exile May Return to Netherlands.

By The Associated Press.

GENEVA, Saturday, Dec. 20.—A dispatch from Berlin states that the former German emperor has agreed to accept trial by the allies, but wants to choose the place and time of trial and desires to be defended by German experts. The basic conditions for the former crown prince declares he will never appear if called before a court.

By The Associated Press.

THE HAGUE, Thursday, Dec. 18. Long inclined to believe the allies would not make a serious demand for the extradition of former Emperor Wilhelm, the Dutch government now expects such a demand will be made, the Associated Press was officially informed today.

"We suppose the demand will come before long and that several powers probably will address a small note to Holland setting forth the case," the official said.

"Our feeling is that the very men who sign the demand probably will be hoping all the time that we will refuse. This demand will put a small note in a difficult position, which seems to us, not at all just."

So far as the Associated Press is able to learn, Holland will probably stick to its original intention to refuse a demand for extradition of the former emperor. There is growing feeling in some Dutch circles that the former monarch himself, could and the difficulty in which he placed Holland if he chose to show himself grateful for a year's sanctuary.

"He could and the whole difficulty, so far as Holland is concerned," the official said, "by voluntarily returning to Germany, German press dispatches indicate the German inquiry commission would like to interrogate him. However, from what we can learn, the former Kaiser is not likely to do anything like that. He is not afraid to return, but his mind does not run that way. It is against his inclination to appear before any inquiry commission as he still considers himself responsible for nothing wrong."

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—Under Secretary of State for Military Justice left for London today to take part in compiling a list of Germans charged with war crimes, and whose delivery to the entente will be demanded. A conference will be held this week in London to which the joint action by Great Britain, France and Belgium.

France, according to the Echo de Paris, has a list of 100 names ready to be presented. Among these names are those of the former German emperor's sons, and also those of former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and several generals and commanders of prison camps in Germany.

According to this newspaper, about 1,500 persons will be arraigned before military tribunals of each of the three nations or by mixed tribunals.

The case of former Emperor Wilhelm will be dealt with separately from the London conference.

SCARED OFFICERS CLEARED

President Grants Clemency for Army
Leaders Who Retreated.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Conviction of three officers of the 26th Infantry on charges growing out of the failure of that regiment to hold the line near Binarville, France, on September 28, 1918, have been set aside by President Wilson.

Army orders just published recorded executive action in the cases of Lieutenants Horace R. Crawford, George W. Cross and Robert W. Cheers, each of whom had been sentenced to death on charges of having violated the 75th article of war. The specification in each case charged the officer with having "shamefully" retreated from the enemy.

WAR HERO SPEAKS AT CHURCH

Survivor of Princess Patricia
Will Talk at Boston Avenue.

Jack Lingwood, one of the seven survivors of the famous Princess Patricia's Light Infantry, will tell something of his experiences in the war at Boston Avenue church tonight. No admission will be charged.

Lingwood served over three years in France, was wounded seven times and received three times. He is wearing the Mons ribbon and badge and also decorated by the king of England.

Tickets: Tails make good clothes. R. E. Wood and Main, upstairs. Advs.

World's News Told In Condensed Form For Hurried Reader

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 21.—(Black) Flowers of Winter, S. C., was elected captain of the 1920 Georgia Tech football team. Flowers is one of the fastest half backs in the south.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 21.—General Pershing will lay the cornerstone of a new school named in his honor when he comes here tomorrow, according to Father J. W. Ward, president of the board of education.

GALVESTON, Texas, Dec. 21.—The Morgan line steamship El Dia, with a record of over 100,000 miles service as a mine layer, has returned to her regular general cargo service between New York and Galveston.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 21.—The Chicago Tribune has been given up by official of the Gulf Refining Company. The Tribune carried a story of $2.

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Dec. 21.—All hope for the safety of tank steamer last night, which left this port for Baltimore September 6, has been given up by officials of the Gulf Refining Company. The steamer carried a crew of 42.

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Francis Lutz, 60, wife of Francis Lutz, who died last night, was taken to the hospital for a few days. She is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 21.—An amendment is made to the amendment of C. P. Newton of Little Rock, speaker of the Arkansas house of representatives, as federal prohibition inspectors.

JOPLIN, Mo., Dec. 21.—Much excitement was caused in this district by the burning in market of a motor car (car) Mo., yesterday morning. The official body, according to persons who saw it, plunged in a building fire. It was burned in a building fire. It was burned in a building fire.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—(Herald)—Lieut. Henry Hager made a new airplane record for altitude with his new biplane yesterday. Flying through a thick mist he ascended 10,000 meters (32,800 feet). The previous record with two passengers was 17,752 feet.

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—A tentative offer of the findings of Judge Frederic Dodge as matter said to be favorable to trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society, was handed yesterday to counsel of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Collection of the Methodist Episcopal church through its missionary treasury and benevolent boards amounted to $1,050,936 last year, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A resolution adopted by Northern Baptist conference, allotting women one-third of the places on the Baptist state boards of promotion, has been rejected by the conference of all of the states concerned, it was announced.

REFINERY SWEEP BY $30,000 FIRE

Vapors Flashing Given as Cause of the Holocaust.

ONE MAN IS BURNED

Plant of Lake Park Company at Okmulgee Laid in Ruins by Flames.

TO REBUILD THE PROPERTY

Firemen Fight Blaze for Hours to Prevent Its General Spread.

Special to The World.

OKMULGEE, Dec. 21.—A "flash" explosion of vapor in the receiving room of the Lake Park refinery this afternoon started a fire which swept the plant and caused damage estimated at between $20,000 and $30,000.

The receiving boiler and pump stations and the loading rack, four tank cars and an 18,000 gallon tank of crude benzene went up in smoke. Jesse Crawford, still foreman, was badly burned about the arms and was taken to the Okmulgee hospital.

The entire city fire department fought for hours to prevent the complete destruction of the refinery and the nearby factories. The refinery had a capacity of about 2,000 barrels daily and was in operation when the fire broke out.

It will have to be partially rebuilt. The loss is largely covered by insurance. The main offices of the Lake Park company are in Kansas City. Another refinery is located at Ponca City.

"The Sweeping Spain." By The Associated Press.

MADRID, Saturday, Dec. 20.—Influenza has reappeared at Santander, Valencia, and other towns and is causing many deaths.

Mayor Wisener of Muskogee is Dead

MUSKOGEE, Dec. 21.—John L. Wisener, mayor of Muskogee, a prominent Oklahoma democrat, died suddenly at his home here tonight of heart disease.

Special to The World.

MUSKOGEE, Dec. 21.—After an illness of three days, John L. Wisener, mayor of Muskogee, died here tonight of heart failure.

He went home from the city last Friday. The following day he telephoned that he would not be down Saturday. He was not thought to be seriously ill. He became worse tonight and died shortly after a doctor arrived at his home.

Wisener was prominent in Masonic circles of the state and a member of Redwood temple of the Mystic Shrine. He served as a captain in the Spanish-American war and was the second sheriff elected in Muskogee county after statehood, and two years ago was elected mayor.

He has always been interested in the oil business, having interests in the Hixby field and the Boynton district until he became mayor, when he sold his oil property.

The house was filled with flowers. Religious services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the cathedral. Afterward the body will repose in a vault until it can be taken to Italy for burial.

There was no eulogy, only music. No one appeared on the stage, but from the wings there came melodies from orchestra and soloists. The orchestra pit was filled with flowers. On the conductor's stand lay Campanini's baton and the score of his favorite opera, "Tosca."

The house was filled with darkness. Music lovers, rich and poor, heard but did not see Alessandro Bonci and Rosa Rana, who sang.

Religious services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the cathedral. Afterward the body will repose in a vault until it can be taken to Italy for burial.

There was no eulogy, only music. No one appeared on the stage, but from the wings there came melodies from orchestra and soloists. The orchestra pit was filled with flowers. On the conductor's stand lay Campanini's baton and the score of his favorite opera, "Tosca."

The house was filled with darkness. Music lovers, rich and poor, heard but did not see Alessandro Bonci and Rosa Rana, who sang.

Religious services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the cathedral. Afterward the body will repose in a vault until it can be taken to Italy for burial.

There was no eulogy, only music. No one appeared on the stage, but from the wings there came melodies from orchestra and soloists. The orchestra pit was filled with flowers. On the conductor's stand lay Campanini's baton and the score of his favorite opera, "Tosca."

The house was filled with darkness. Music lovers, rich and poor, heard but did not see Alessandro Bonci and Rosa Rana, who sang.

Religious services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the cathedral. Afterward the body will repose in a vault until it can be taken to Italy for burial.

There was no eulogy, only music. No one appeared on the stage, but from the wings there came melodies from orchestra and soloists. The orchestra pit was filled with flowers. On the conductor's stand lay Campanini's baton and the score of his favorite opera, "Tosca."

The house was filled with darkness. Music lovers, rich and poor, heard but did not see Alessandro Bonci and Rosa Rana, who sang.

Religious services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the cathedral. Afterward the body will repose in a vault until it can be taken to Italy for burial.

Mine Owners Not to Approve Settlement Plan of A. M. Palmer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Coal operators of the United States, through their executive committee, explained further tonight their reasons for refusing to participate in the government's plan for settling the bituminous coal strike.

Representing demands that previous agreements had bound them to accept the government's plan, the operators asserted that while they were bound by and had agreed to accept strike settlement proposals made by Doctor Garfield, former fuel administrator, the government proposals as accepted by the miners differ vitally from those of the Garfield plan.

The insistence of the operators on the necessity to sustain wages, the commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

The settlement of the coal strike was the subject of a meeting Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, where a general session of the coal commission of the United States was held. The commission named Saturday by President Wilson and given him power to fix wages and prices of coal necessary to sustain wages, might be unable to function. The executive committee did not say, however, that operators would stand aloof from the commission in its investigation of the situation, but left the question open as to whether they would participate in the settlement.

TULSANS ESCAPE HARM IN WRECK

Two Killed and 48 Hurt
When Frisco Train
Suddenly Halted.

COACH AXLE BREAKS

Red Cross Supervisor Among the Dead; All of Injured
Were in One Car.

TWO SECTIONS OF TRAIN

Sapulpa Man Suffering From Shock; Local Oil Man Has Injured Leg.

ST. JAMES, Mo., Dec. 21.—Two persons were killed and 48 injured when a St. Louis & San Francisco passenger train was derailed three miles east of here today.

The train was en route from Oklahoma City to St. Louis. The accident was caused when an axle of one of the coaches broke.

The dead were:
J. O. Hopper of West Virginia and Mrs. William H. Brown of St. Louis. The injured were rushed to a hospital in St. Louis. John M. Weaver of Cincinnati suffered a fractured skull and his condition was said to be serious.

Mrs. Brown was a Red Cross supervisor in the southwest division and had been directing the relief work in Oklahoma.

The train was running on the second section of Frisco passenger No. 10 and was composed of six coaches. The accident occurred about 11 a. m.

The only coach demolished was the one in which the two dead were riding. It was buried against a freight train on a siding.

Among the more seriously injured were:
S. E. Thompson, iterations of face and Mrs. May Lynch, iterations of face and head, all of Oklahoma City. Mrs. Roy Brown, Sapulpa, Okla., nervous shock and Baby Beam, injuries to the head. E. E. Cline, St. James, Okla., contusions of body, and Jack Gruber, dining car chef, injuries to back and leg.

Both sections of the train left Tulsa after 6 p. m. Saturday crowded with people going home for Christmas.

Most of the Tulsans were on the first section, but many had to take the second, which was the wrecked coach. A private wire into Tulsa yesterday said that George Griffin, associated with Carl H. Hopper, was also on the train. Dr. Fred M. Hooton left for the east, but it is not known whether he was hurt or not.

ASSASSIN'S AIM BAD